

TT No.36: Steve Hardy - Saturday 29th September 2018; Holy Trinity v HERC Saints; Coventry & District Church League Division 2; Kick-Off: 10.01am; Result: 3-2; Admission: Free; Programme: No; Attendance 1 h/c

I do enjoy my visits to the various Church leagues that are spread around the country. Each has their own peculiar quirks though, and with the Coventry League it is finding out where the games are actually being played, as venues are a closely guarded secret. Luckily, a couple of clubs have twitter accounts, so I was able to trawl through these and eventually settled on Foxford School in the north of Coventry, and close to the Ricoh, which is the home of Holy Trinity FC.

I arrived at 9.50am and wandered over to the pitch to see if anyone had turned up yet, and found the match just about to kick off. Seems several of the players wanted to get to the Coventry City early kick off, so an early start, no half-time break, and an early finish was just the ticket.

On the pitch, the Trinity took an early lead on 20 minutes, and then nothing much seemed to happen for the next 65 minutes really. Then, bang! Trinity scored twice in a minute to lead 3-0, before Saints scored 2 of their own in the final two minutes, to leave us with a 3-2 score-line.

Facilities-wise, there were none. This was just an un-roped off pitch in the middle of a school sports field. As I was the only spectator again though, it didn't matter one jot
